Every woman should know that there is a great home medical book that tells all about the reproductive physiology of women, and all about the home treatment of diseases peculiar to the sex. This book contains 1000 pages and over 700 illustrations. It is called, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It used to cost $1.50. Over seven hundred thousand people purchased it at that price and over 1,200,000 people now own copies of it. For a limited time copies will be given away free.

This great book contains the names, addresses, photographs and experiences of hundreds of women who were once hopelessly invalid, but who have been restored to robust womanly health by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This marvelous medicine acts directly on the delicate organs distinctly feminine. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It banishes the usual suffering of the expectant months, and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It robs motherhood of its perils. It insures the robust health of the little new-comer and a bountiful supply of nature's nourishment. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers. For a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For elegant French cloth binding, 31 stamps.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

The State of Nevada sends to C. H. Gardner, David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by A. A. Foster as plaintiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, exclusive of day of service, if served on you in person, or twenty days if served on you by mail, but within said District and in all other cases and in all judgments by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. This action is brought to recover against you a decree to foreclose a mortgage made by the defendant on the following mentioned and described real property, to-wit: South half of the west one hundred feet of lot six in block "U" and lot 5 in block "V" in the town of Reno, Washoe county, State of Nevada, five appears by mistake in the mortgage which lot five in block "U" was the mortgage when recorded appeared of record and the mistake in the mortgage is corrected by this court, and the mortgage is now made the lot five in block "U" and lot 5 in block "V" as a part of block "V" and not a part of block "U" as in fact it is, also to foreclose the interest accrued and unpaid on the above mentioned property for the purpose of procuring money to pay a promissory note to the sum of $1895 and $1-10-100 dollars including interest accrued and unpaid. Said note was made by the defendant Gardner on the 4th day of October, 1896, and by the terms provides for interest on the money thereby represented at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually. That said note and the interest thereon accrued and remaining unpaid is said sum of $1895 $1-10-100; also that there be judgment to pay said indebtedness a judgment is sought for any unpaid remainder after payment of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale. Jungle Food and Jungle Poison.

Those who have traveled much through the damp jungles of India, such as the Terai, cannot have helped noticing the large amount of fungoid growth, both terrestrial and epiphytical, that presents itself, much of which is edible, but requires an intimate acquaintance with botany to determine between the poisonous and unpoisonous. What were not long since considered semisavage races on the northeast frontier are the best guides to the uninitiated, however, can employ to distinguish the two classes. So close is the resemblance that it would be dangerous for the ignorant traveler to trust to his own unaided discrimination, and if the services of a human nomad are not available the fungi should be submitted to the equally unaided judgment of a tame monkey—a thing no traveler should be without.

The animal must be very closely watched when sitting in judgment, special notice being taken of his countenance. If the specimen is poisonous, there is a decided look of disgust apparent, as the creature throws it from him, but if nonpoisonous it is torn into fragments, first smelled and then transferred to the mouth, in which case one may rest perfectly satisfied that it is edible, even though "jackoo" may not eat it. In no case will our remote connections make a mistake, nor, for that matter, will an elephant either. A spare elephant or two is also a handy thing to have among your luggage.—Indian Planter's Gazette.

Tricks of a Pet Crane.

My friend has a pet Florida crane of which he is very fond. The crane stands at one side by the hour, just pluming himself, then picking at shoe buttons and finger rings. Occasionally he is indulged in a favorite pastime—that of taking the hairpins out of his mistress' hair. In nature he is as gentle and affectionate as a kitten, and as he has never been teased he has no enmity for anything except a dog. One night he was attacked by a strange dog, and since then his hatred for any canine other than the home dog is intense.

Dick has always been inordinately fond of his master, whom he makes every effort to please. It is at his command that he will dance, bowing and twirling in the most graceful manner; then circling with wings distended around the yard and back again to bow and courtesy as before.

Another very pleasing recognition of his intelligence is the manner in which he always welcomes his owner. He recognizes his horse and carriage as far as his eye can reach, and long before the bird is in view his voice is heard trumpeting a greeting, which is continued until the master reaches the gate, when at the single command, "Louder, Dick!" he throws his head back and gives forth a long gurgling note, indicating joy and pleasure. To no one else will he give this welcome. It is unique and peculiar—for his owner alone.—Forest and Stream.

Types of Husbands to Avoid.

There are two distinct types of husbands who do more harm than they would be willing to admit—the man who permits himself to become a generous figurehead in his own family, rarely holding a conversation with his wife or children, good naturedly responding to any extravagance for the sake of peace, and the man who, though conspicuous in the church and community, tyrannizes over his family in small things until, for the sake of peace, they deceive him on every hand.—Frances Evans in Ladies' Home Journal.

City Council.

The Council met last evening and after transacting some minor business, the following important resolution was passed by a unanimous vote.

WHEREAS, The people of Reno have at three several elections, by a large majority, expressed themselves in favor of city incorporation and city improvements, and

WHEREAS, This Council has earnestly endeavored to carry into effect the purposes and objects expressed in the act creating the municipality and would before now undoubtedly have had well on to completion all improvements heretofore asked by the people, but for the litigation and injunction proceedings in the courts preventing the Council from proceeding in those matters, a portion of which litigation is on appeal and now pending and undetermined in the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada, and for which said litigation the Council is in no manner at fault, and

WHEREAS, The legislature has recently passed a bill disincorporating said city, without giving the people of said city an opportunity to say whether they are in favor of having their city disincorporated, which said bill has been sent to the Governor and now awaits his signature, therefore be it

Resolved, That his Excellency, Rheinhold Sadler, Governor of the State of Nevada, be and he is hereby respectfully petitioned to veto said disincorporation bill, to the end that all the people of the city of Reno, may have an opportunity to regularly express the will of the majority as to whether they favor disincorporation. Be it further

Resolved, That the Clerk of this Council forthwith transmit a copy of these resolutions to Governor Rheinhold Sadler, at Carson City, Nevada, by mail.

Chinese School in Reno.

In a few days our city will have an additional educational department. The Rev. F. V. Jones, pastor of the Congregational Church, was requested by several of the most important Chinamen in Reno to open a school in Chinatown and teach the rudiments of an English education to ambitious orientals. After some deliberation the minister expressed himself as favorable to the enterprise. Consequently our worthy pastor will soon be occupied in teaching the celestial idea how to shoot, not firecrackers or cigar stumps, but forcible sentences of United States rhetoric into the ears of the people.

Profitable "Temper."

The Gazette criticizes Stewart for the "temper" he displayed in "stopping" the Nevada newspapers that opposed his election. "Meanness" would be the correct word, for the old fraud never pays his back subscriptions when he orders the papers stopped, so it is a good thing for the publishers to cross his name off their lists, as they would never get their pay, for he has not a dollar's worth of property in the State, and if sued would be sure to plead the pauper act when ordered to appear to answer questions under execution.

PIANOS.

The Wiley B. Allen Company have opened a piano store on Virginia Street, next to Upson's grocery, and for ten days will sell pianos for half what other dealers charge for them.

Off to the Klondike.

Eighteen sturdy young men from Mason Valley, on their way to the Alaskan gold fields, were delayed in Reno by last night's late west bound train. They are well equipped for the journey before them.

The party is under the leadership of F. M. Freeman of Mason Valley, who has made the trip before. Freeman left last year with barely enough money to pay traveling expenses to Skaguay. Soon after his arrival there he fell in with a pack train and worked his way to Dawson City, where he located a claim which soon sold for $180,000. He returned to Mason Valley a wealthy man, and is now leading this party to the scene of his successful venture.

The Wheelmen Minstrels.

The second annual performance of the Wheelmen's minstrels will be given March 17th, under the auspices of the Wheelmen's Club. The boys have been practicing for some time and hope to give the best amateur performance ever witnessed in Reno. The costumes are now being made by Anderson of San Francisco, to be used in the grand spectacular first part, and every detail has been attended to. The prices will be 75 and 50 cents, and seats will be on sale at Miss Dickinson's next Friday morning.

Would Make Money.

Thursday is said to be the day set for the adjournment of the legislature. The members will receive no pay for the last four days, but some people are unkind enough to express the opinion that the State would make money by paying the regular per diem for those four days than have the legislature remain in session with members working for nothing.

...If the specimen is poisonous, there is a decided look of disgust apparent, as the creature throws it from him, but if nonpoisonous it is torn into fragments, first smelled and then transferred to the mouth, in which case one may rest perfectly satisfied that it is edible, even though "jackoo" may not eat it. In no case will our remote connections make a mistake, nor, for that matter, will an elephant either. A spare elephant or two is also a handy thing to have among your luggage.—Indian Planters' Gazette.

Tricks of a Pet Crane.

My friend has a pet Florida crane of which he is very fond. The crane stands at one side by the hour, just pluming himself, then picking at shoe buttons and finger rings. Occasionally he is indulged in a favorite pastime—that of taking the hairpins out of his mistress' hair. In nature he is as gentle and affectionate as a kitten, and as he has never been teased he has no enmity for anything except a dog. One night he was attacked by a strange dog, and since then his hatred for any canine other than the home dog is intense.

Dick has always been inordinately fond of his master, whom he makes every effort to please. It is at his command that he will dance, bowing and twirling in the most graceful manner;
then circling with wings distended around the yard and back again to bow and courtesy as before.

Another very pleasing recognition of his intelligence is the manner in which he always welcomes his owner. He recognizes his horse and carriage as far as his eye can reach, and long before the bird is in view his voice is heard tramppeting a greeting, which is continued until the master reaches the gate, when at the single command, "Louder, Dick!" he throws his head back and gives forth a long gurgling note, indicating joy and pleasure. To no one else will he give this welcome. It is unique and peculiar—for his owner alone.—Forest and Stream.

Types of Husbands to Avoid.

There are two distinct types of husbands who do more harm than they would be willing to admit—the man who permits himself to become a generous figurehead in his own family, rarely holding a conversation with his wife or children, good naturedly responding to any extravagance for the sake of peace, and the man who, though conspicuous in the church and community, tyrannizes over his family in small things until, for the sake of peace, they deceive him on every hand.—

nal.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.
The State of Nevada sends to C. H. Gardner, David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, Greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by A. J. Foster as plaintiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this Summons, exclusive of day of service, if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. This action is brought to recover against you a decree to foreclose a mortgage made by C. H. Gardner on the following mentioned and described real property, to-wit: "South half of the west one hundred feet of lot six in block 'U' and lot 5 in block 'U' in the town of Reno, Wa-shoe county, State of Nevada, five appears by mistake in the mortgage which lot five in block 'U' which mortgage when recorded appeared of record including the mistake that shows said lot 5 to be a part of block 'V' and not a part of block 'U' as in fact it is, also to procure an order of court directing a sale of the above mentioned property for the purpose of procuring money to pay a prom-issory note to the sum of $183 and 31-100 dollars, including interest accrued and unpaid.
Said note was made by the defendant Gardner on the 4th day of October, 1899, and by its terms provides for interest on the money thereby represented at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually.
That said note and the interest thereon accrued and remaining unpaid is said sum of $183 31-100; also should there be insufficient to pay said indebtedness a judgment is sought for any unpaid remainder after payment of costs and charges of foreclosure and sale. It is alleged in the complaint that there is a mistake in the description of the property mortgage and the mistake is sought to be corrected by order and decree of court, and thereafter that an order be made and decree entered foreclosing said mortgage and directing a sale of the property mortgaged, and after said sale made that the cost and charges of foreclosure and sale including attorney's fee of $200 provided for be paid from the proceeds arising from a sale made of the mortgaged property; also that the defendants David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, be made parties defendant and that they and each of them be required to answer the complaint, showing any right they or either of them may claim in the mortgaged property, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred,
and you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, at Reno, this 1st day of February, A. D. 1899.

CAPITAL VS THE PEOPLE.

The general proposition that wealth or capital shall rule or individual manhood majority, has been discussed so often and thoroughly that but little new can be said or written upon the subject. That the American Republic was based upon the principle of individual and not capitalistic majority rule, is too plainly expressed in the federal constitution to admit of any question. That this principle has been too often reversed in national matters is as true as it is lamentable.

But to come down to home matters. In 1896 more than two-thirds of the people of Reno voted for the incorporation of the town, and more than nine-tenths in favor of a proposition which was impossible without a municipal government. Last November the voters reiterated their desire for a city government and purchased wholesome water by re-electing by large majorities all of the old members of the Council, with but a single exception, where the old member declined to become a candidate.

A short time ago a petition signed by 180 persons was sent to the Washoe delegation at Carson, asking for the passage of a bill incorporating the city of Reno. Of course the prime movers in the matter were the officers of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company, and, after several days' most strenuous efforts, they succeeded in securing a considerably less number of names than voted against incorporation in 1896 and 1898. The petition was received by the Washoe delegation and a bill prepared by the Water Company's attorney was introduced, supported by Washoe's entire delegation, passed both houses, and is now in the hands of the Governor for his approval or rejection.

In the Senate the assertion was made that the 180 names on the petition represent nine-tenths of the property interests in the city of Reno. As a matter of fact, the assessment roll will show that they do not represent one-half, probably not one-third, and possibly not one-fourth of the $1,700,000, which is the assessed valuation of all of the property within the city limits.

But the property proportion is not the question. If the legislative reports are correct, our Senator made the most astounding assertion to the effect that those who paid the heaviest taxes were the only ones to be considered in a matter which involved the expenditure of money for public improvements. If this is a correct doctrine, the quicker we abolish the ballot box, the more speedily will we set ourselves right by striking out from our federal constitution that part which grants to every citizen, equal voice and right in all matters pertaining to the management of all of the affairs of government.

In the matter of incorporation or disincorporation, every man, woman and child in Reno is directly interested, and the poorer even to a greater extent than the richer. It is a pretty safe bet that three-fourths of the property owners who signed the water company's petition have their drinking water hauled from streams and wells outside the city limits, as does the State University, where the students are admonished not to drink water from the city pipes. There are hundreds of householders, small taxpayers, who cannot afford to have their water hauled, but are compelled to pay for use for drinking the impure fluid furnished by the water company, and to which a number of our physicians do not hesitate to attribute a large proportion of the sickness in the city.

Is it right for a wealthy corporation to receive greater consideration from the Legislature than five times the number of voters and twenty times the number of people it can control? When incorporation or disincorporation is considered from a sanitary standpoint, have a few persons who can afford to avoid the use of unwholesome water the right to force it upon their poorer neighbors, whose lives and health and that of their children are perhaps as precious to them as are the same conditions to the wealthier persons who, while evading danger in their own families, compel the less fortunate ones to encounter it in theirs? If this is just, then the Washoe delegation was right in securing the passage of the bill, and Governor Sadler would be justifiable in affixing to it his approving signature.

The Gazette has queer views about law making. It claims that a bill becomes a law if once signed by the Governor even if the Chief Executive changes his mind and withdraws his signature while it is yet in his hands. A bill cannot become a law until it is returned to the branch of the legislature from which it emanated and the message with its import is entered on the journal of that house. There have probably been fifty cases of the kind the Gazette refers to, since Nevada was admitted as a State. In this case, however, there was a change made in the title of the bill after it had been signed by the Governor, which would make the withdrawal of his signature legal beyond all possible question, for when returned to him it was not the same bill that he had previously signed.

In the late war, the rules of prize fighting were reversed. Spain, the fellow that got licked, was presented with all of the gate receipts, amounting to $20,000,000.

Floods in Kentucky and Virginia.

While it is very dry in California and western Nevada rain is plentiful in Virginia and Kentucky. The lumbering interests of these States have sustained loss by booms breaking and turning loose logs containing millions of feet of lumber. Towns and houses along the river banks are flooded. In many places the chimneys are all that can be seen of many houses. Much discomfort and suffering by the people of the flooded districts is experienced.

Tough on the Old Folks.

There is a story going the rounds that a Winnemucca young man advertised for a wife under an assumed name and his sister answered it under an assumed name. Then photographs were exchanged and the sister felt so humiliated that she told her mother. The old lady broke the news to papa, who yawned and remarked: "Mother, it's pretty hard to have two fools in one family."

William Black's Character.

Sir Wemyss Reid notes that William Black seldom allowed himself to be drawn into conversation about his work. One of Reid's recollections runs thus: "One day, in the far off past, I was walking along the sea front with Black, at Brighton, when he said abruptly and with reference to nothing that had been passing between us: 'We are not all engaged in running away with other men's wives. There are some of us who are not the victims of mental disease or moral deformity. I do not even know that anybody of my acquaintance has committed a murder or a forgery. Yet people are angry with me because I do not make my characters in my books odious in this fashion. I prefer to write about sane people and honest people, and I imagine that they are, after all, in a majority in the world.'"

Some Went to Glory.

I once asked a district nurse, says a writer in The Cornhill Magazine, how the various sick cases had been going on during my absence from the parish. At once the look which I knew so well crossed her face, but her natural professional pride strove for the mastery with the due unctuousness which she considered necessary for the occasion. At last she evolved the following strange mixture, "Middling well, sir; some of 'em's gone straight to glory, but I am glad to say others are nicely on 'the mend.'"

Starting Him Right.

"Ah!" sighed the sentimental youth. "Would that I might install a sentiment in your loyal heart!" "Sir," interrupted the practical maid, "I'd have you understand that my heart is no installment concern!"—Chicago News.

Distinctions.

"Did our friend retire from politics?" "Well," answered the practical worker, "it wasn't what you'd call a 'retire.' It was a knockout."—Washington Star.

Too Much of It.

A high army officer whose fad was ventilation was one day making an inspection of a frontier post which was much in need of repair. In some places the roof showed the blue sky overhead and the walls were ornamented with gaps.

The brigadier general was escorted through the building by the colonel in charge, a sergeant going on before, as is the custom, to warn the men to stand at attention in honor of the general.

As they proceeded the general asked: "And how is the ventilation, colonel?"

Before the colonel could reply the old sergeant, with a familiarity born of long service, said:

"Sure, general, and the ventilation is bad, sorr, verra bad, sorr. The place is all full of holes, sorr."—Detroit Free Press.

Her Opinion.

"Mandy," said Farmer Cornucopius, who had been reading the back pages of a magazine, "of a cannon ball going at the rate of 60 miles an hour was shot from the back of a train going 60 miles an hour, where would the cannon ball light?"

"I dunno exactly where 'twould light," she answered, "but I kin prophesy that it 'ud do a lot o' damage. It couldn't hit nowhere without hurtin' a lot o' people that was standin' around without anythin' better to do than speckle-ate on jes' sech doin's."

Doctor Stubbs went to Carson yesterday morning, presumably upon University matters. The committee of the whole, as the doctor views it, committed an error when it reduced the appropriation for the University $3,000 and gave the money to the State Agricultural Society. Railroad Talk.

The Alturas New Era contains the following:

J. M. Fulton, general manager of the N.-C.-O., continues to push work on that road; he continues to buy horses and mules and put every man to work who applies for a job, and we have heard it said that he intends to put on a crew of from 1,500 to 2,000 men. We heard one of our leading business men say this week that he would gamble that road would reach Alturas by August. A number of Alturas and Likely boys have gone out to work on it and all have obtained employment.

The Yreka Journal thinks that because of the Squaw Valley road pushing this way is the cause of the rush of the N.-C.-O., and our northern exchanges say the fact of the Oregon Short Line coming this way is the cause of the rush.

At any rate, we are now bound to have a railroad soon, and the prospects of three to come, and few people seem to realize what this really means to Modoc county.

Vote on Assembly Bill No. 51.

The vote in the Assembly upon Assembly bill No. 51, entitled "An act to regulate the duties of common carriers to its officers, agents or employees regarding the charges for transportation of merchandise," was as follows:

Yeas—Deady, Dooley, Gadeney, Hobbs, McMillan, Maccham, Patey, Paul, Spindel, Rattice, Van Etten, Wilkerson—12.

Nays—Armstrong, Blakeslee, Bradshaw, Condon, Gillespie, Hancock, Henley, Hodgkinson, Kinney, Leidy, McGowan, Patterson, Stroenider, Tremont, Speaker Allen—15.

Absent—Kirman, Pitt and Coryell.

The bill provided against railroads willfully taking merchandise beyond its proper destination for the purpose of making charges for such unnecessary haul, and which has proved and is still proving such a burden upon the people of this State. The above vote may prove valuable for future reference.

A Volunteer Instructor.

The editor of the Lovelock Tribune, in a hypercritical mood, undertakes to instruct the students of the State University in the use of the mother tongue. If the students had in their possession some of the literary productions of the said editor, which would long ere this have been classics had not a cold, unappreciative world planted a vulgar pair of feet upon them, they would soon be able to speak and write English "as she is spoke."

When a country editor of pea-gan calibre undertakes the role of literary critic with the idea that his efforts will awe his readers into the delusion that he is a scholar of wide and diversified knowledge he errs most grievously. Even the most illiterate reader of his journal will pause and exclaim (in effect) "Why is it, if this editor is such a learned man, that he abides with us, afar from educational centers where genius receives its merited reward?"
